CAT4 provides primary schools and secondary schools with Key Stage 2 indicators for reading, SPaG and maths, filling the gap left by the national tests this year. These indicators are derived from an analysis of CAT4 scores and KS2 test results, based on a nationally representative sample of around 24,000 students taking the KS2 SATs in 2019.

▯The test could be taken in every year from Year 2 to Year 12; however, children are generally only tested once or twice in primary school,▯ says Sue. What skills are tested? Unlike SATs, which focus on core skills linked to the curriculum, primary school CATs focus on a child's natural cognitive reasoning ability.

Educational sociologists have paid relatively little attention to children in middle childhood (ages 6 to 12), whereas developmental psychologists have emphasized factors internal to the child much more than the social contexts in explaining children's development. Children, Schools, and Inequality redresses that imbalance. It examines elementary school outcomes (e.g., test scores, grades, retention rates) in light of the socioeconomic variation in schools and neighborhoods, the organizational patterns across elementary schools, and the ways in which family structure intersects with children's school performance. Adding data from the Baltimore Beginning School Study to information culled from the fields of sociology, child development, and education, this book suggests why the gap between the school achievement of poor children and those who are better off has been so difficult to close. Doris Entwistle, Karl Alexander, and Linda Olson show why the first-grade transition?how children negotiate entry into full-time schooling?is a crucial period. They also show that events over that time have repercussions that echo throughout children's entire school careers. Currently the only study of this life transition to cover a comprehensive sample and to suggest straightforward remedies for urban schools, Children, Schools, and Inequality can inform educators, practitioners, and policymakers, as well as researchers in the sociology of education and child development.
